

To whom it may concern.

I have had occasion recently to use the services of your firm and specifically those of Hojol Uddin.

I wanted to write to you to commend Hojol on his outstanding quality of professionalism and client care.

I suspect like many people I have little experience of the dealing with the law - Hojol made a harrowing process understandable and painless. His concerns for me as a client were always at the forefront of his mind - something I and my wife found enormously helpful.

His understanding of his brief was first class and his wish to ensure the best possible outcome for me, his client, was always to the fore.

His instruction to counsel was excellent (as indeed was his selection of the right barrister - a very impressive young man)

I would have no hesitation in commending Hojol or your firm to colleagues and friends.

I would be grateful if you would pass on my thanks to Hojol for all his efforts - they really were greatly appreciated.

Yours sincerely
